

DANCE IN ANTIOCH BRINGS TO CLIMAX POLITICAL EVENTS

Marks Peak of Greatest Program in Annals of Republicanism

LEADERS ARE THERE

More Than 5,000 Enjoy
Celebration at Palace
Wednesday Night

As a climax to the most interesting political campaign ever staged in Lake county, more than 5,000 persons attended the dance given in the Antioch Palace last night by the county's Young Peoples' Republican leagues.

Everyone in Lake county, regardless of political affiliation, was invited. The dance was one of several held throughout northern Illinois by Young Peoples' leagues. Such functions are believed to be politically potent. Although there were no speeches or no requests for donations, many persons prominent in political circles in the district were present. Max Pryzborski, North Chicago, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee, Lee McDonough, Waukegan, and Richard Lyons, Mundelein, candidates for representatives, were introduced to the crowd.

Mr. Pryzborski is recognized as one of the most able political leaders in this part of the state, and as one of the most able men Lake county Republicans have ever had as chairman. W. R. Behanna has been an enthusiastic and capable assistant toward bringing a Republican victory, while many others, acting as lieutenants, such as Norton Flood, John Noll, and Antioch's chairman, Virgil Feltner, have worked faithfully for their party.

Entertainers from Chicago theatres gave specially acts of dancing, singing, and instrumental music. Accordion numbers proved especially popular. Whitney and his Blue Diamonds furnished the dance music.

Early in the evening crowds began to pour into the Palace for the greatest event in the annals of Republicanism in Lake county. Three reasons may be given for the large gathering: first, and greatest of all, Republican organizations were sponsoring the dance in a great Republican stronghold; second, the entertainment promised (and this promise was kept) was of the highest type, and third, everything was free, with an assurance that there would be no magnets to draw money from pleasure-seekers. During the early part of the evening the dance floor was so crowded that from the side lines the dancers looked like waves of color bounding up and down. Outside the space for dancing, it was necessary to elbow one's way.

It was a great party. Antioch should feel proud to have been host to such a large group of Republicans and their friends. It is just as one man said as he started home:

"Well, boys, the success of this dance is just an indication. In a slight way, of the great success the Republican party will have next Tuesday."

And perhaps it's so—but back to the dance—perhaps in another four years there will be even a better one, suppose?

Autumn Is Everywhere

The spirit of autumn is in the air—just everywhere. Including the Wetzel Sales company room.

The display room has been transformed into a woodland scene. Oak, maple, and various other kinds of leaves splashed with red, yellow, and brown have been arranged over the doorways, on tops of automobiles, around the floor and over the furniture, so that they seem to have blown there. Near the front of the room is a shock of corn, in front of which is a grinning jack-o-lantern. Colored lights, harmonizing with the red, yellow, and brown in the leaves, give an added effect at night.

C. E. Hennings and Ted Palous have returned from a motor trip through Indiana and Illinois. While gone they visited Chicago, Gary, LaPorte, Benton Harbor, Anderson, Hammond, and Whiting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dodge, Elymore Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dodge, Billy and Junior Dodge, Ringwood, Illinois, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bacon.

CHILD DIES TUESDAY

Pneumonia caused the death of Glen Edwin Philipp, five-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldin Philipp, Woodstock. The baby was the grandson of Mrs. Hasselgrave, Antioch, and the parents are well known here.

Representative Race Is Tangle for Voters

Republicans of the eighth senatorial district will have placed before them on November 6 the opportunity of electing three Republican representatives or face the alternative of having a Democrat represent them in the general assembly at Springfield for the next two years.

There are enough Republican votes to elect all three Republicans—Richard J. Lyons, Lee McDonough, Lake county nominee, and N. L. Jackson, the Boone county entrant.

Every voter has the privilege of three votes for representative nominees, also the option of dividing his vote any way he chooses—he may give one vote each for three candidates, 1½ votes each for two candidates or may plump all three for a single candidate. This arrangement means, of course, that those who favor the election of Thomas A. Bolger, McHenry, will plump three for the Democratic nominee.

Jackson's Republican friends in Boone county and McHenry county will do the same for him. It is claimed. As a measure of self-protection, many supporters of Lyons and McDonough are advocating that voters here should give each of the Lake county nominees a vote and a half each. As Lake is the most populous unit of the three-county district, this manner of voting would insure the election of both Lyons and McDonough. But the office of representative is not a county office, Jackson's supporters maintain, and the Boone county nominee should be given consideration. If Jackson is defeated and the Lake county men are successful, it simply means that McHenry and Boone county Republicans will be without representation at Springfield, as Thomas A. Bolger, Democrat, will have that job for the next two years. Mr. Bolger is very probably capable, but a Democrat sitting in a Republican general assembly can not, and would not be expected to do much constructive work in the legislature.

The more optimistic of the Republican workers are freely predicting the election of all three Republicans, basing their belief upon the fact that all three nominees have support of a major kind throughout the district.

There are many angles to the four-way legislative derby. McHenry county Republicans balled up the works at the primaries last April by having four candidates and consequently failed to place one of the nominees, Lake county, by reason of greater population, (nearly twice that of the combined population of Boone and McHenry counties), is entitled to more representation in the general assembly, is the claim of Republicans who look at the situation from the standpoint of the number of people ascertained.

The legislative race is interesting. "Let your conscience be your guide when you mark for representatives next Tuesday," was the well-intentioned advice heard from a prominent Lake county Republican this morning.

Antioch High School Team Again Winner

Another victory was annexed by the Antioch High school football team Saturday afternoon when the Warren High school crew was defeated 18 to 0.

The scoring was made in each of the first three quarters, and although the local men threatened to score in the last period, they were unable to carry the ball over the line. The first touchdown was scored by Stelzinger about the middle of the first quarter through a hole in the line opened up by Dalziel and Murrie. Earlier in the period Antioch threatened to score with a forward pass, but the pass was dropped since the ball went into the end zone and Warren had the ball on the 20-yard line and immediately punted out of danger.

During the entire game Antioch found it easy to work to the 20 yard line, but Warren would then always stiffen the defense and keep the score from mounting. The second touchdown was made by Heeman after a spectacular end run of 20 yards. Monier scored the third touchdown through a line drive.

Not once during the entire contest did Warren outplay the local team, but the showing made by Coach Kelton's team was good, considering the many inexperienced players.

Mrs. S. Boyer Nelson, Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mrs. Walter Borman and Mrs. Pynn were in Racine Monday.

DANCING AND MUSIC WILL FEATURE HOME TALENT PLAY TONIGHT

High School Two Nights.

Dancing will be seen and music will be heard when the curtain rises tonight in the high school auditorium for the first performance of "Cheer Up" No. 2, the musical revue being presented by the Antioch Woman's club.

Old popular songs, clever, catchy dances, and specialty numbers are included in the program. Antioch's business men, professional men, housewives, students, and teachers may be seen in action tonight and tomorrow night.

Costumes of all sort—gay orange and black Yama-Yama suits, artistic smocks, of many clars, worn with pert tam-o'-shanters, odd Chinese kimono, and dozens of other colorful and appropriate costumes are to be worn. The stage at all times will be a spectacle of color, especially in the finale when flower-decked and electrically lighted swings will hold women dressed in evening gowns of pastel shades.

The movie scene is funny from the time Mr. George Garland enters with her two children, Harold Nelson and Mrs. Wanda Rhodes, and argues with the "hard-burt" usher, Lester Osmond, the audience is sure to be kept laughing. Mrs. Robert Wilton and Mrs. Homer Gaston as Mamie and Tillie, two flappers, will afford plenty of amusement, to say nothing of John Nixon as the fat man, and John Moore and Rex Bousier as a loving pair.

He will remain on the British Isles for six weeks, spending most of the time at the place where he was born, near Glasgow. Mr. Armour came to the United States 38 years ago. He has made two visits to his native country, but has not been there for 15 years.

ROAD WORK HALTED

When grading for state route 59 is finished to Volo this fall, work on that road will be halted until some time next year, according to Supervisor H. D. Kelsey, of Cuba, who was in Waukegan Monday to confer with county Superintendent of Roads Lobdell.

Route 59 is the West Chicago-Antioch road, slated to pass through or near Barrington. Grading from Fox Lake to Volo will be completed this year. From Volo the route will follow Rand road into Waukegan. The route from Waukegan to Barrington has not been definitely decided. Mr. Kelsey had hoped that this would be determined and the grading completed at least as far as route 22 this year, but the state division of highways has called all of its surveying parties out of Lake county for the year, he learned Monday.

PLANS BEING FORMED SO SUPPLY OF MILK IS ON SOUND BASIS

Pure Milk Association
Endeavors to Bridge Difficulties.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Consumers, distributors and producers who make up Chicago's milk industry are soon to put their milk supply upon a sound basis if plans now maturing are carried out. These plans have for their basis arbitration of prices and all differences arising as between producers and distributors and should insure to the consumer an adequate supply of milk of the very finest quality at reasonable prices.

In the past, organized producers and distributors upon failing to agree have precipitated a strike by farmers which would demoralize the industry and large quantities of milk of unknown origin and sanitation have been foisted upon Chicago consumers. The Pure Milk association is fostering a plan for arbitration have not lost sight of the fact that it is within their power to deliver milk to dealers at a fixed price regardless of consequences.

The Pure Milk association, a co-operative organization of dairymen now supplying the bulk of Chicago's fine milk supply from tuberculin tested cows, has since its origin constantly endeavored to deliver to the consumer through existing distributors the very finest quality of milk. Producers' deliveries are made in such a manner that distributors weigh it and test it for butter fat and 15 days after the end of the month pay to farmers a price fixed by distributors in Chicago.

FREEDOM IS SHORT

Jack Davis Escapes from Jail, But Is Captured
Again.

Freedom didn't last long for Jack Davis, Antioch, after he broke out of the local jail Tuesday, for he was captured by Officer Frank Valenta within a short time.

Davis was arrested Tuesday noon, according to Mr. Valenta, Davis broke the lock on the jail with the belltrap out of a sewer, and ran out into the slough back of the Village hall, where he remained until dark. Upon discovering that Davis had gone, Mr. Valenta hid in the grass near the Davis home until Davis returned.

Davis was arrested at first upon the complaint of Mrs. Charles Nelson who charged him with having stolen $30 worth of silverware and an automobile key from her summer cottage, Druce Lake. Mr. Valenta reported to the office of Sheriff L. A. Doolittle that Davis admitted taking some of the silver. He has not been arraigned yet, however.

Plan Open House

Parents of Children and Their Friends Are Being Asked.

Formal opening of the new grade school is planned for 2 until 5 o'clock and from 7 until 9 o'clock Monday, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. A. Alner, president of the Parent-Teacher association and Mrs. Charles Lux, secretary.

Grades I, II, and VI moved into the new building this week, and the first day all of the rooms had perfect attendance.

EMMERSON REVIEWS ISSUES OF CAMPAIGN; WARNS VOTERS AGAINST OVER-CONFIDENCE

Over 1,200 Voters
Are Registered in Antioch Township

More than 1,200 voters are registered in the three precincts of Antioch township, according to the poll of eligible voters completed Tuesday by the judges of election who acted as registration clerks in the precincts. Just how many of these will vote next Tuesday is a matter of conjecture, but it is stated upon good authority that the greatest vote ever polled in Antioch will be counted by election officials next Tuesday night.

Figures shows the following number registered: district 1, 720, district 11, 410; and district 111, 102. Judges of election District 1 are J. C. James, Mrs. Bessie Trieger, and Frank Hunt. Clerks are Mrs. W. H. Osmond, Mrs. Helen Osmond, and Sam Tarbell.

District II judges are Frank Dunn, Mrs. Eva Kaye, and Ralph Miller. The clerks are Harold Golstrup, Charles Richards, and Mrs. Charles Neaham.

In District III, the Fox Lake district, the judges of election are Arthur Gardner, Will Jackson, and Mr. Clapper. The clerks have not been announced.

The polls will be open Tuesday from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening. Persons who have not registered but who can prove themselves qualified voters may cast ballots, it is said.

THREE MURDERERS DIE IN DECEMBER

To Be Executed in Joliet
For Death of Millburn Farmer.

Claude Clark, colored 48, John Brown, colored, 32, and Dominick Brossette, 33, a Chippewa chief, murderers of William Beck, 34, a farmer at Millburn, were sentenced to death this week by Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards.

The date of execution was set for December 15, the execution to take place in Joliet penitentiary. The court ordered that the three murderers be electrocuted between sunrise and 9 o'clock in the morning. They are not to be taken to prison cells for 15 days, a stay being allowed by the court to allow attorneys time to perfect an appeal to the Supreme court.

Attorney George W. Field, counsel for Brossette, said the case of the Indian chief would be taken to the high court. Attorney Harry Hall, a court appointee, who represents Brown, said that this defendant hopes to be able to raise funds for an appeal. Clark has no counsel and said he could not get any funds, so will not be able to do anything further for himself. The court allowed 30 days for filing of a bill of exceptions in the Supreme court.

Secretary Refuses to Be Drawn Into Campaign Of Slander

Floyd Thompson's Tactics
Prove Unpopular
With Voters.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—In a statement issued at Republican state headquarters here today, Louis L. Emerson, Republican nominee for governor, briefly reviewed the issues of the state campaign and made a plea to the voters not to permit over-confidence in Republican success to keep away from the polls next Tuesday.

"For all practical purposes the campaign is ended," Mr. Emerson said. "Nothing can happen between now and next Tuesday to change the minds of any considerable number of voters. Every straw vote and every survey indicates conclusively that Herbert Hoover and the state Republican ticket will carry Illinois by tremendous majorities. The large registrations and especially the greater number of women registered indicates an unusual interest."

"Voters must remember, however, that voters do not count until they are deposited in the ballot box and overconfidence must not be permitted to keep voters away from the polls. "In closing my campaign for governor I want to thank the thousands of loyal men and women who not only have supported me, but who have actively resented the character of the campaign waged against me."

"My record in public life is an open book and I am proud of the fact that it has won the unqualified endorsement of the people who have re-elected me twice—the last time by the largest plurality ever received by any candidate in Illinois—who nominated me for governor last spring by a total vote of more than a million."

"I fully recognize the grave responsibility imposed upon me by this continued confidence and I propose as governor to fulfill the expectations of the voters by giving Illinois the best administration within my power. In this I expect to have the whole-hearted cooperation of my associates on the Republican ticket."

"The Democratic candidate for governor, selected without primary contest or sanction of the voters of his party he had nothing to say about it, has seen fit to make his whole campaign a trade of vituperation and slander. He has assumed that he alone is holy and that all who oppose him are thieves and grafters."

"In the first speech of my campaign I answered his charges truthfully, specifically and in detail and these answers were printed and circulated throughout the state. But adopting the tactics of the demagogue, he has persisted in constant repetition of his falsehoods in the face of refutation. "Self-respect would not permit me to be drawn into an exchange of billingsgate with him. I have devoted my time and energies to a discussion of the issues outlined in my announcement for the Republican nomination for governor last November and later incorporated in the Republican state platform adopted at Springfield in April. The highway program, reform of our antiquated taxing system so as to relieve homes and farms of the unequal burden they now carry, improvement of the industry and better care and treatment of state wards have been discussed fully. These and other constructive problems, it seems to me, are questions in which the public is interested."

"The response at mass meetings and in thousands of letters I have received convinces me that my estimate of the intelligence of the voters was correct."

"The Democratic campaign has left the people in ignorance of the Democratic candidates for the important state office. Not one voter in a hundred can even give the names of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket. Apparently these positions have been forgotten in the personal campaign of the candidate for governor. Yet, in many respects, they are as important as the governorship itself."

"When the Republican state ticket is made up of men and women who are well known and who merit support. The election of this ticket will insure to the state an efficient, economic and progressive administration."

Hints

Hints of Fashions
Noticed Around
Antioch

Quite attractive was the costume worn by a woman who went by the Antioch News office twice the other day. Her coat was black made with scarf effect, and with a cheerful bunch of yellow flowers at the side of the collar. The cuffs were of mink with tiny tails. Black shoes and gun-metal hose were worn.

Cutting at a local home the other morning, the door was opened by a housewife wearing a pretty blue and white print house dress. The collar and short cuffs were of blue organdy.

By the way, there is nothing more attractive than a pretty house dress or a pretty apron. Is there? Have you ever noticed the pretty aprons that girls in one of the local stores wear? Pretty figured materials, bright trimmings, and old styles—their aprons have them.

DRESS ACCESSORIES

By Marjorie McKinney

Everyone has an instinctive feeling that one's natural charms are not sufficient in themselves, therefore decorations are used. This is the most dangerous thing for a woman who is untrained in the art of correct dress-making. Her danger lies in having an harmonious and tasteful adornment.

A hat should seem to belong to the wearer. The width and length of the face should determine the height and width of the crown, although the crown and width should not be equal if the face is broad. The round faced woman should have extra breadth in the crown. The hat that is wide in brim produces an effect of shortness. The tall woman should wear the wide brim while the short woman should choose a hat without a brim or a very narrow one.

One may spoil the looks of a gown by having a very conspicuous pair of shoes. Shoes or slippers should be appropriate for the clothes one is wearing. If one is wearing a sport outfit one would not want party slippers to wear with it.

The gloves worn for morning with one's suit are heavy kid, dog skin, or heavy fabrics. Summer gloves should be of silk or chambray. For afternoon, evening, long and wrinkle matching the costume, gray with a blue costume biscuit with brown, or white with black may be substituted for matching shades. Gloves must be in harmony with the costume, in the quality as well as the color.

People in the dress gone by carried lace-bordered handkerchiefs dangling carelessly from their pockets. Linen and pongee handkerchiefs belong to the business and morning outfits. There are also very good with the sport clothes. Sometimes a woman is seen with a tailored suit and from the pocket peeps a dainty lace handkerchief. This is not good taste. The afternoon handkerchief should be either white or colored chiffon.

The handkerchief should match the costume or the trimming on the costume. With a suit or wool dress, the leather handkerchief is the right note while for the afternoon gown the handkerchief should be a ruffled silk or beaded one.

With tailored suits, sport clothes, or school apparel, the scarf is a necessity. It may be of wool, or of silk, knitted or brilliantly figured. There are as many different ways to wear scarfs as there are scarfs themselves and originality is all one needs.

One should not decorate or rather load one's self with jewelry. Jewelry is right but costly jewelry should never be worn with a cheap frock. Earrings should help in the looks of a person, not make them look ridiculous.

Perfume may add a touch of fragrance to a clean and healthy body but should never be used for concealing another odor. Perfume should never be poured on clothing but should be put on the lip, behind the ear or on the forehead.

FALLS OFF CAR

Falling from the running board of the auto which his sister was driving, Clarence Dunford, Channel Lake, was run over by the car. The machine passed over his right leg near the hip, and although his leg was scratched and bruised he was not otherwise hurt.

Did You Ever Try
These Recipes?
Do, Please.

Cookies! Who ever tires of them? This week we offer good, tested recipes—all of them above the average. First we have Butter Scotch cookies "just like mother used to make"—and they are worth trying.

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1 cup lard and butter mixed
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon cream tartar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 4 cups flour, measured after sifting
- 1 cup nuts

Mix the ingredients as for any cookies, adding the nuts after the flour. Instead of rolling, form into a loaf, the shape of a meat loaf only thinner. Let stand for at least 12 hours, then slice, very thinly and bake. A very sharp knife must be used to slice the cookies.

For old-fashioned ginger molasses cookies, these are exceptionally good. The recipe is Miss Ella Ames' favorite.

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup molasses
- 1 cup shortening
- 3/4 cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- Salt

Method: Mix to soft dough and bake in quick oven.

Mrs. J. H. Cribb, Victoria street, makes Filled Cookies this way:

- 1 cup sugar

- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup sweet milk
- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

For the filling:
1 cup sugar
1 cup raisins chopped
1/2 cup hot water
2 tablespoons flour

Method: Cook the ingredients for the filling until thick. Roll cookies until very thin. Place in baking pan, place one teaspoon of the mixture on each cookie, then lay another cookie over this and press the edges together. Bake in a hot oven.

The recipe Mrs. Cribb uses for Sugar Cookies follows:

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 cup lard and butter
- 1 cup sour milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- Nutmeg and vanilla flavoring.

Method: Mix as for any cookies but care should be taken that the dough is not too stiff.

Molasses cookies are made by Mrs. Cribb, also. She uses this recipe:

- 1 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup lard and butter mixed
- 3/4 cup hot water
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons soda dissolved in the hot water
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3 1/2 cups flour or a little more.

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

Loon Lake! You all know where that is, don't you boys and girls? Remember when there was such a terrible storm there? If you do, you are not the only one who remembers the storm that took the roof off houses, tore trees up by the roots, and hurled large objects for a long, long ways. Guess who remembers it most of all? Are you all guessing—guessing just as much as you can? How many of you guessed Mr. Boasty-bluffy Bird? If you did, you guessed correctly, for Boasty-bluffy will never forget the day that the tornado hit Loon Lake.

The funny part of it was, that before the storm Boasty-bluffy had at times not even lightning, whales, giants, or big wind storms. But Boasty-bluffy certainly did become frightened the day of the tornado, for he had some thrilling experiences. Now, though, Boasty-bluffy boasts that he wasn't frightened one bit! Isn't that strange? But that is just like Boasty-bluffy! He stands on the corner, looks in the stores and in postoffice and he's always telling about the day of the tornado. He holds his head high and looks proud, just like in the picture, boys and girls.

Would all of you like to hear about the storm in Boasty-bluffy's own words? Listen carefully then:

"Well, sir, that storm was the worst storm that I have ever seen, and heavens help me from ever seeing another one like it. Before the wind and rain came up I was playing pool in Hawkeye Hawk's pool hall. The pool hall is—I mean was—in sort of a shack, you remember. All at once the roof was taken off the shack and went sailing away. Next the sides were blown away and I saw all my friends go whirling through the air, but I'll tell you, none of them had as thrilling experiences that I did. But I wasn't scared, not one bit.

"I was getting knocked about quite a bit, just back and forth. I kept my claws gripped on the back of a chair. All at once, believe me or not, I went up in the air, chair and all. I sailed around for a great many minutes, and finally landed in the top of a tree. I was shivering and shaking. The rain was beating fiercely and I could scarcely see. I did notice, though, that diningroom tables, beds, barrels, boats, and rocks were flying all about my head. But I wasn't afraid, not for a minute.

"Now, would you believe it or not, but that tree in which I had landed was torn up by the roots, and here went the tree, the chair, and I, floating around in the air. Did it feel like an airplane ride? I'll say not. It was terrible, for first, we'd hit one thing, and then hit something else. But I wasn't afraid. No sir, not for a minute.

"All at once the tree, chair, and I landed in the middle of Loon Lake. Right in the middle of it, and we stayed there, too, until the storm was over and then some. Now would you believe it, but it was getting dark and I was in the middle of the lake and there was no one to hear my calls for help. How did I know but what I would be drowned? But I wasn't afraid. I knew I would get back to land all right. But do you know I stayed out there on the lake all night long, all by myself? I did, all by myself. Never once did I have my foot off that chair. Never once did I close my eyes, and say! maybe I wasn't wishing that someone would come out on the lake after me. I couldn't fly back to land, the winds were too strong and I was too weak. Was I hungry? Oh, I was empty. Empty I was—but I wasn't afraid.

"I tell you I stayed there all night, and I was surely glad to see the morning light. About noon two men in a boat rowed past where I was and I finally got back to land. Believe me I had some thrills! But never once was I afraid."

And that is the story which Boasty-bluffy tells. It is a true story, excepting that Boasty-bluffy WAS afraid. In fact, he was still so frightened when he reached land that he couldn't talk. And he didn't talk for hours. And that is why a lot for Boasty-bluffy for Boasty-bluffy would rather talk than eat.

German Visitor to Antioch Tells of 'Theatrical Impression' New York
Offers to European Visiting U. S.

New York—Its skyscrapers, its brilliant lights, its twinkling electrical signs, all in all, give to the European coming to America for the first time a "theatrical impression" which Miss Mary Oswald had when she landed in New York less than a month ago. Miss Oswald, a German, is now a guest at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Ed Turner, North Main street.

It is a "theatrical impression" Miss Oswald explains that she means that New York itself looked like stage scenes—just a huge stage. Miss Oswald has traveled extensively through Europe but this is the first time she has ever crossed the Atlantic.

"The crossing," she says, "was a bad crossing, a crossing that no one will ever forget. It was rainy and stormy every day. Most of the passengers were seasick." But she thinks that the pleasantness and the joy she has found in the United States more than make up for unpleasant voyage.

Miss Oswald was a teacher of languages in Europe, and speaks English clearly and distinctly. Only at times does she grasp for phrases. She says that in Germany blue-eyed boys and girls must start the study of Latin in school. This serves as a foundation for other languages, she explains, adding that she thinks it is much better to get an early start with Latin than wait until 12 or 14 years of age. As soon as a pupil may take up another language, Miss Oswald says, there is always a desire to study English because it is much easier for the German than the study of French. Authorities declare, however, according to Miss Oswald, that the German students should learn French first, master it, and then take up the English.

Displayed Hats

Miss Oswald can hardly understand the pleasant attitude the child in America has toward his school.

"It is so different, so different," she explains as she hopelessly shakes her head. She thinks school here is really wonderful. In telling of the strictness in German schools where there is absolutely no merriment or fun, she said she could scarcely believe her eyes, when in one of the Antioch Grade schoolrooms, two girls came to a teacher displaying new hats.

"Boys and girls in Germany learn a lot," she says, "sometimes too much. There is too much home work. It is strange how American boys and girls enjoy school. The German pupil goes to school at 8 o'clock in the morning (small child) and goes at 9 o'clock and stay until noon. Then the work for the day in the classroom is finished. The hours are long enough to be inside four walls often in the afternoon the students and their teachers take walks and short trips. Trips of a week or a fortnight are not uncommon for the boys and girls and their teachers to make. Pupils in little towns must attend school until 14 years of age, and in large cities until 16 years." The summer vacation, Miss Oswald says, is five weeks, but there are a great many holidays throughout the year. These holidays are necessary, she explains, as school work there is very tiresome as there is "such a lot to learn."

Different in Germany. "Is not the workman very good considered here?" Miss Oswald asked, and upon being given an affirmative reply she answered:

"Isn't so in Germany, oh! no! isn't so!"

That there is no one in the United States who is proud is the impression gathered by Miss Oswald. That the homes in Antioch are home of working men is difficult for her to believe.

"That splendid feeling," she says, "is one of the things which makes your nation so wonderful, that makes your Union really a union. The consideration your people have for one another, the confidence which you have in yourselves makes you all healthy, wealthy, and happy. Everybody seems happy. You have no idea with how much pleasure this impresses the foreigner. This happy attitude which everyone seems to have creates a desire in the European to go to America."

She continued: "People in New York are so kind. Everyone was so considerate. I had not that feeling like a stranger. Oh, it was such a good feeling." She said she was surprised at the public "establishments" such as the depots. The depots in every city she found comfortable and clean. The people of America, Miss Oswald thinks (contrary to many opinions) are more calm and quieter than she had expected.

Miss Oswald enjoys the American newspapers, especially small town ones. The Antioch News she thinks "very nice."

"Do you think you will like America?" she was asked.

"Oh, I think so," she responded.

Know The Community? The Students Do

Antioch, Trevor, Salem—any of the communities around here—want to know about them? Ask some of the students in the seventh or eighth grade civic classes of the Antioch Grade school. They know all about the community and community interest. It is remarkable the way the students have grasped the question and the way they have treated it. They haven't learned a certain number of cold facts. They have analyzed the subject matter, added their opinions, and they're ready to tell about them. Hernee Jensen yesterday morning was telling the students why residents should buy in Antioch as much as possible; what makes a good citizen, and what makes a good community. And Hernee knew how!

Eighth grade students were given tests last week of the true-false, multiple choice, and completion types. The tests were very interesting. Some questions to a casual observer would seem foolish, but these questions have their value. For example—make true or false in front of some of these: The Greeks believed in many Gods; Homer was able to read by using strong glasses; Socrates was put to death in an electric chair; Socrates enjoyed being a sculptor; Helen was the wife of a Greek king; or Homer was a poet in Greece.

Plans are being discussed at the Antioch Grade school, whereby money may be obtained to purchase the Reading Circle books. There are sets of books issued for each grade, each year, and if each set may be purchased the number of valuable books in the library is kept increasing.

WRITE STORIES

By way of explanation may I say the seventh grade has been studying stories and their various parts this week. The children were allowed to select their own topics and write any type story they wished with the result that some are real adventures, some accounts of educational trips and some entirely fictitious.

A HUNGRY DOG

By Jack Panowski

Bow wow! The bark of a rather vicious dog came to us one hot day in July.

"If I ever meet that dog face to face," said Frank Moore, "I hope it will be in a meat market with a thin skin."

"Hot dogs are much too warm to talk about on a day like this," I said, "Why not talk about 'Greenland's Ice Mountains'?"

"Fine," said he, and we both settled back dreaming of cool, green, mountains of ice.

All of a sudden I saw a feather. It gave me an inspiration, so picking it up I tickled the back of his neck where upon he turned his head quickly. I thought he must have seen me but evidently not for he just settled back and said nothing. The second time I tickled him he turned, got up, and made a flying tackle for my legs. I moved them out of the way a little faster than I had ever done before and he went sprawling before me. He chased me in the back of the house where the dog was kept, then turned and started the other way. While I was standing there wondering what frightened him I heard a growl! I made one complete pivot and then started to run.

I thought I could get out of reach as the dog was chained, but the dog changed my mind soon enough. He caught me where most dogs catch chicken thieves. This was rather awkward explaining to mother who said she hoped I had learned a lesson. It was still more awkward to explain to Dad when he asked me the use of the cushion on my chair at the supper table that evening.

Members of Team Put Under Rules

Antioch High school football warriors were placed under strict rules and regulations last week by Coach G. G. Reed. The rules must be followed by every player who wishes to remain on the team. Some of the rules follow, in part:

Exercise—enough exercise for each player is obtained at the practice sessions. A member of the team must attend every session unless excused by Coach Reed.

Sleep—players must be in at 10:30 o'clock every night in the week, with the exception of one night when the limit is 12:30 o'clock. The late hours must not be kept the night before a game.

Food—good, wholesome food must be eaten. Recommended foods are: beef (boiled beef preferred); potatoes, not fried; vegetables, milk in large quantities, eggs, butter, and other dairy foods. Prohibited foods are: greasy, fried meats; pastries, sweets, coffee and tea. A player may eat one small piece of pastry or a small piece of candy immediately after meals. Lunching before bed or at 4 o'clock in the afternoon is approved by the coach if the lunch consists of mild foods, soups, milks, etc.

Narcotics and stimulants are barred.

Practical, yet dainty and attractive salads were made by Miss Mary Danke, representative of a Chicago cheese concern, at a demonstration given in the food laboratory of Antioch High school Tuesday under the direction of the Home Economics department.

How to make unusual salads, easily prepared, as well as tasty main dishes were included in the demonstration. Tomato rarebit, new ways of preparing macaroni, and vegetables and fruit salads were made.

Women of Antioch, as well as high school girls, attended.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES HELD AT SCHOOL

Among the leading events in the way of parties this week were the parties held at the Antioch Grade school yesterday afternoon in observance of Halloween.

Most elaborate of all was the party held by Mrs. Charles Lux's first grade children in their room in the new building. Grinning faces on orange and black lanterns were electrically lighted from the ceiling. The mantel boasted jack-o'-lanterns and two black cats. Corn shocks, a profusion of orange and black crepe paper and serpentine, and many pumpkin faces made a true Halloween setting. As the children sat about the tables they were orange-clad hats with black pom-poms. Taffy apples, candy, and gingerbread boys were served on gay Halloween dishes. Halloween stories were told and songs of the festival were sung. Mad races in a marshmallow eating contest created much amusement for the children. In the third grade, under the supervision of Miss J. Strickler, their party was a lively and noisy one.

All kinds of Halloween costumes and games formed the entertainment for the fourth grade of which Mrs. Mary Hynek is teacher. The fifth grade had a costume party in the old building annex. There were many decorations and the children were clever and original. Mrs. Harwood is teacher.

Pupils of W. J. Patten's sixth grade invited the entire grade to a song fest in the observance of the holidays. Miss Elizabeth Tison and her second grade children had a truly gay afternoon with the beautiful pumpkin faces etc. Pupils in them.

ATTEND MEETING

"The Rural Home Council" was discussed at a meeting held at the Antioch university Monday under the auspices of the Federated Council of Churches of America. The Rev. A. M. Kraft and Gordon Martin, student in the agriculture department of Antioch High school, attended.

A report of a survey conducted during the last two and one-half years was given. The survey was pertaining to the milk supply in the Chicago water shed. Milk is now shipped in from six states. The desire of the farmer to cooperate so that Chicago may have a pure milk supply was found by those making the survey. The farmer wishes to cooperate, it was explained, from a standpoint of serving humanity. The average farmer's income on labor, it had been found, is $700 and on produce, $440, or $12 a week on which he must support his family. This was contrasted with the $15 a week minimum wage of the milk wagon driver, and this was contrasted with the 15 cents a quart the consumer must pay.

As a result of the conference 15 civic organizations have become intensely interested in the welfare of the farmer and it is believed that a fair price for milk a living wage for the milk wagon driver and a good return on capital invested for distribution will result.

Visitors over the end of the week at the Hartford home, Chained Lake, were John Corbato, Lester Anderson, Bud Waters, Chicago.

The present rules of conduct on Hill Avenue may be all right, but we would like to suggest a "building", steel a gate, or paint a horse, just once more.

The "Knot Hole News" wishes to compliment the Wetzel Chevrolet Sales upon the appearance of their Here's hoping that some day the back seat driver will get back jaw.

AMATEUR BOUTS HERE MEET WITH GREATER FAVOR THAN BEFORE

Amateur boxing in Lake county leaped upward a few more pegs in public favor following the exceptionally fast and clean card of bouts staged at the Antioch Palace Friday night by Promoter Dick Maccek and witnessed by 1,500 enthusiastic fans, most of them have been following the fortunes of the leather-pushers since the inauguration of amateur boxing here.

Windup Was Thriller

The windup bout of the evening, a terrific punching match between Irish Jimmy Murphy of Chicago, and Frank Russell, Elgin, had the fans on their feet for the greater part of the three rounds. Murphy had trouble solving Russell's whirlwind attack in the first round and the opener went to the Elgin lad by a wide margin. Russell was warned by "Jahber" for low punching. Murphy's fighting Irish spirit was aroused and during the second session Russell was on the ropes most of the time and he was on the defense during the round. A series of right and left uppercuts and several stiff lefts to his jaw and Russell hanging on at the close of the round. But the Elgin lad was game, coming back strong in the third round, the best of the bout, as both fighters were in there every second of the final. Murphy was a close winner.

Jimmy Hull Defeated

Jimmy Hull, Lake Villa, mauler, made a whale of a fight against Jack Sparks, Elgin, but Jimmy was not good enough to win. Sparks, clever fighter, seemed able to adopt any style of scrapping Hull wanted to try. Jimmy started his infighting as usual—Sparks did the same. When Hull slugged, the Elgin boy bent him to the punch. After three rounds of real action, Sparks was given the decision. It was a great fight.

Ross Is Crafty

It took Barney Ross four rounds to prove his superiority over Orla Fosen, Elgin. Not much action was seen during the opener as both lads fought with great caution. Both carry sleep-producing wallop in either mitt and all during the fight no one would have been surprised to see one or the other take the count. The second round was not much faster than the first, most of the time being spent by sparring for openings. The judges disagreed at the end of three rounds. Ross, most aggressive in the fourth, was given the decision.

Leggette Loses

Another good three-round battle that proved popular with fans was between Artie Donovan, Elgin, and Harry Leggette, one of the Palace favorites. Fast, clever fighting featured the bout. Donovan earned the decision.

Alphonse Ambrose earned a close decision over Wallace Bell, Elgin, after four rounds. The first round was even, but Bell easily took the second when he seemed to have Alphonse at his mercy by a series of wicked uppercuts every time the Racine fighter went into a crouch. Advised by his seconds to stand-up and slug with the Elgin battler, Alphonse came out of it and out-pointed his opponent in the third. The fourth round was a slugging match, and the decision in favor of Ambrose was hoed by the fans.

Chase Breaks Hand

Louie Smith colored, has a hard head. So testifies Jimmy Chase, Tribune golden glove winner, who engaged the Elgin battler in a three round classic, the second bout of the evening. The colored lad took a terrific lacing during the entire three rounds, and was tired and laughing on during the second session when Jimmy was trying to put him away, trying so hard that he broke his right hand on Smith's jaw. Chase went the remainder of the route with his left hand, settling the decision.

Hughes Fast Winner

Frankie Hughes won by technical knockout over Louis Wallace, colored Elgin, after 55 seconds of fighting in the first round. Hughes hit Wallace with everything except the ring posts and the colored boy was so bewildered that he covered up. The referee then stopped the bout.

Levette Easy Winner

Larry Levette, Waukegan, was an easy winner over Jack Harris, Elgin, in three rounds. Harris was down for a nine count in the second round and was floored twice in the third session. "Jahber" stopped the bout when Harris seemed unable to continue.

Clifford Hook and Robert Alvera were among those that attended the football game at Champaign, last Saturday.

TWIN LAKES CARD PROMISES FIGHTS FULL OF ACTION

One week—and then some more—professional bouts at Charles Haden's Twin Lakes ring, and the card offered is a good one which promises plenty of action.

Mike Chandel, that old Italian standby and star from Milwaukee, was slated to appear last time, but was forbidden by physicians to do so because of a fractured rib. He's back in shape now, however, and next Thursday night in one of the windup bouts will box Jimmie Cusill, Kenosha, Wis., who formerly came from St. Paul, is a boy who knows his punches. He has fought Mandell and Sanger. They weigh 133 pounds each.

In the other half of the big double windup, Irvy Bernat, Richey, Minn., will box, Milwaukee, is to meet George Mavis, Chicago flash who appeared on the last program. They are in the 135 pound class. Bernat has defeated Joey Cline and had fought Azzorolla. Azzorolla has twice boxed Mandell. The windup bouts are six rounds each.

Wildcat Jack Murphy, a Buffalo product, has proved that he truly is a wildcat. He's called the "boy with a k. o." and it isn't any wonder, for in Milwaukee he scored five straight kayos. Murphy's opponent for four rounds will be Dynamite Jackson, a Panama Indian. As one sees him box one keeps thinking "Jackson, Jackson, he's all action." These men are 160 pounders.

Aggressive—and the same—is Jack Hanley, Green Bay fighter. He is going to meet Franklin Cheek who bears the label "Philippus" in box one keeps thinking "Jackson, Jackson, he's all action." These men are 160 pounders.

knows how to stop once he gets going.

Max Steward, Milwaukee, hard hitting southpaw is to meet Battling Chuck, ragged welterweight. They will weigh in at about 150 pounds. Few men tackle the fight game in the way that Steward does. He's clever, he's keen, he's powerful, and he's different.

In the first bout of the program Al Terry, West Allis, is to oppose Jack Phillips, Chicago. Both these boys are better than average—and they're pretty evenly matched.

The entire card is a good one. Twin Lakes fights are conducted in a good, orderly manner and all requirements of the Wisconsin Boxing commission are met.

Louise Slachan and Edmee Warner spent the end of the week in Champaign. They saw the Illinois-Northwestern football game.

A Party of Achievement

THE Republican Party has a remarkable record of achievement. Nation and state have progressed and prospered under Republican rule.

Constructive Republican leadership in Illinois for more than 70 years—during which time there have been but two Democratic administrations—has won for this State an enviable position among the most progressive states of the Union.

The nominees of the party this year were selected at a primary in which more than 1,660,000 Republican voters participated. They were chosen because of their well-known honesty, ability and experience. Under their guidance Illinois will go forward with long strides during the coming four years.

They are pledged—

- To hasten the construction of the bond issue system of roads and to undertake the working out of a plan for the surfacing of secondary roads, thus extending the benefits of paved highways to thousands of farms and small communities.
- To apply business efficiency in highway construction and other public works.
- To work out a sound, just and economic reform of the taxing system, in order to relieve homes, farms and other visible property of the unequal burden they now bear.
- To cooperate in every way possible with agricultural interests for improvement of the condition of the farmer and to assist in securing national farm relief legislation.
- To maintain a helpful attitude toward industry and to favor legislation for the protection of wage earners and the improvement of conditions under which they work.
- To assist the coal mining industry by demanding the removal of the unfair differential on Illinois coal.
- To extend and improve the charitable institutions and maintain the highest standards for the care and treatment of helpless wards of the state, free from spoils politics.
- To insist upon regulation and management of public utilities in the interest of the public which they serve.
- To complete the construction of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Waterway and to urge the building of a waterway connecting Chicago with the Atlantic ocean through the great lakes.

These and other pledges are all summed up in the one promise of efficient and economic state government.

THE MAN PREFERRED

Illinois voters have turned the spotlight of investigation upon the two candidates for governor with the result that their findings have been as interesting as they have been convincing.

The Bloomington Pantagraph, one of the most reliable independent newspapers in Illinois, sent representatives to investigate the charges made against Mr. Emmerson and they went into the matter fully. As a result the Pantagraph states that they "are fully convinced the charges are false and that as a result of the investigation they are sure Mr. Emmerson is the man to be preferred for governor." This reputable and unbiased newspaper further states: "Personally the publisher has investigated the record of Judge Thompson and we can frankly say that we do not consider him a fit man for the position. He has been controlled by certain interests in his party which we know do not stand for good government."

The Pantagraph probably refers to Floyd Thompson's record as state's attorney of Rock Island county. During his administration the city of Rock Island became such a plague spot that vice conditions were condemned by the chamber of commerce and were further denounced by United States Secretary of War Baker, in a communication to Governor Lowden. But the record is silent as to any attempts to suppress vice or clean up Rock Island by State's Attorney Floyd Thompson. It is well known to Illinois voters that Thompson was supported for office by the notorious John Looney, master mind of vice ring operating in that part of Illinois, who has been convicted and is now serving time in the penitentiary.

The above facts are what Illinois independent voters found out about the record of the man who seeks to be elected to the highest office of the people of the state. They are asking voters to compare his record and qualifications with those of Mr. Emmerson, the Republican nominee, who has to his credit twelve years of honest and efficient service as secretary of state, and who believes in business efficiency and integrity in public office.

Louis L. Emmerson is the man preferred for governor of the great state of Illinois.

STRATTON WILL LEAD

Next Tuesday William J. Stratton will receive the greatest Lake County vote ever given any candidate for any office when thousands will mark his name for secretary of state. Bill Stratton is Lake county's first candidate for state office, and a counting of the ballots Tuesday night will show that voters here appreciate the honor.

Mr. Stratton needs no introduction to Lake county, his life long home. The character of the man is the best described by Frederick Lundin, speaking at the Palmer House, Chicago, October 16, where 1500 friends of Mr. Stratton were assembled at a testimonial dinner. Fred Lundin said: "Bill Stratton has been all right in Lake county; that's why he is all right in Illinois and why he will be all right at Springfield."

Party affiliations will be forgotten Tuesday when voters here mark for Bill Stratton for secretary of state.

THE $20,000,000 BOND ISSUE

The ever recurring bond proposition will be in evidence at the election next Tuesday. In Illinois the special ballot that will be placed before the voters of the state carries the proposal to spend $20,000,000 to establish a statewide system of fishing and hunting grounds. It was approved at the last session of the legislature and has been both indorsed and condemned by civic organizations since then. The proposition was sponsored by the Small-Thompson organization and has become known as the Fish Fans' measure because it had originated with the Fish Fans' club.

Proponents of the measure cite many advantages that would result should the proposition find favor with the Illinois voters next Tuesday. It is contemplated to acquire lands in various sections of the state for fish and game preserves, the lands to be chosen for suitability for fishing or hunting grounds, and the real estate would be purchased for the state by the director of the department of conservation with the approval of the governor. The grounds would be open to the public in accordance with the game and fish laws of the state. Trapping would be prohibited, but camping, picnicking and motoring would be permitted. The plan would eliminate poaching and illegal trespassing, aid flood control, and turn land now useless into places of beauty, it is claimed by those who favor it. It is also stated that the measure would be a counterpart of the Illinois hard road bond issues with respect to the plan of payment, as the ones directly benefitted would completely finance the project and the bonds would be retired, it is claimed, without the payment of any direct taxes.

The latter statement has been challenged by the Citizens' association of Chicago.

Instead of having a surplus which could be used in paying principal and interest the department of conservation is just about meeting expenses, according to the association. Interest on the bond issues will total $12,400,000 during the thirty years for which it is proposed to issue the bonds, the association contends. This means that instead of costing the state $20,000,000 the project will total $32,400,000. Most of this will have to be provided by direct taxes, adding $1,000,000 a year for thirty years to the load now being carried by the taxpayers, according to the association.

If the proposition could be satisfactorily financed it would be a great project for the state at large and for Lake county and the lake region in particular. Therefore, as a progressive measure the Antioch News should be for it, but is not, for the reason that so great an expenditure can not be made without greatly increasing the price of hunting and fishing licenses, or the alternative of resorting to direct taxation.

Bond issues in Illinois are not popular at this time, and it is believed that the $20,000,000 conservation project will not be approved by voters next Tuesday.

ADVISES AGAINST EXPERIMENT

"The chief question before the country today, the most important question, is that it intimately concerns the welfare of the citizen, is whether we want to retain that general leadership and general policy or whether we want to experiment with a new leadership and a new policy."

The foregoing potent paragraph relative to the presidential election is reprinted from an editorial appearing in the Chicago Herald and Examiner. Hearst newspapers (Democratic), coast to coast metropolitan dailies are supporting Republican policies and candidates in the present campaign. William Randolph Hearst was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president in 1904.

GOLD STARS FOR ANTIOCH

More and more high schools are thinking more of co-operation and less of competition. Rivalry used to be the keynote of every project. No matter what the contest may be there is always more or less bitterness. There is bound to be. At least little feeling of enmity arises between students of the opposing schools.

A plan has been introduced in the Northwest conference, of which Antioch High school is a member, to do away with the annual contests among the musical organizations of the various schools. There is no need to plan to do away with a custom unless something better is introduced, but in this case something better has been introduced, and this new plan is formed on a co-operation basis. The various schools would send to a designated place each spring glee clubs, an orchestra, a band, and a chorus. These organizations would combine with glee clubs, orchestras, bands and choruses from other schools, and a festival of music would be held. It is hoped that the first of such festivals may be held next May.

This new project is heartily endorsed by the Antioch High school. In fact, the local school heads are leaders in the movement. If plans materialize and the festival is successful there is certain to be a better spirit of friendliness and co-operation between the conference schools.

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT IT?

Courtesy means a great deal any place, no matter how small the act of kindness may be. Residents of this part of Illinois are noted for their courtesy and pleasantness to strangers and their co-operative spirit toward one another. A person coming from communities where many opportunities to extend courtesies are overlooked, notices immediately the hospitality here. Southern people are not as gracious and as friendly as they are supposed to be. Real courtesy exists here—in Antioch, in Lake county.

Last week, for example, a resident of Antioch was in Waukegan attempting to locate a certain man. Inquiring of a man, the answer was of no help in finding the person desired. BUT—although the man could not give the answer and although he was extremely busy, he took several minutes of his time, trying to find the person desired. Walking out of the building, this same Antioch resident had difficulty in getting out of a parking space as another car had parked in front of the one belonging to an Antioch man. A youth standing by saw the trouble and moved the front car until the Antioch machine could be moved.

These two incidents are not uncommon. They are but small events but they left an impression. To a stranger they gave a "gold star" for Waukegan. How many "gold stars" do we give Antioch?

Remember the good old days of youth when your highest ambition was to own a new pair of rubber boots?

Most people who attend to everybody's business but their own don't seem to want any assistance in handling their own personal affairs.

It's our judgment that the Democrats will carry Pennsylvania about the time the Republicans are going over the top in South Carolina.

There is one consolation for the defeated candidate. He doesn't have to worry about the ambitious would-be office holders.

Campaign speeches may not change many votes but they are certainly a great talking point for the radio salesmen.

If Smith should be elected President the slogan of the Democratic office-seekers doubtless will be "You know me, Al."

As the nights grow longer the campaign grows stronger.

We would be a little more enthusiastic about Smith's chances in the Northwest if we didn't remember how Bryan used to stand 'em on their toes in October only to have them sit down on him in November.

Remember the good old campaign days when the rougher it got the better the boys liked it?

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF PROHIBITION TESTS

Shortage of Eligibles In Many Sections Is Reported By Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—The United States Civil Service commission today announced the second examination for agents under the Bureau of Prohibition.

The examination held last year failed to furnish a sufficient number of eligibles for many of the prohibition districts. The new examination will be held throughout the country, to supply the shortage of eligibles and to provide a register from which vacancies occurring later may be filled.

Applications for the examination will be received by the Civil Service commission until November 20.

The entrance salaries for agents range from $2,300 to $2,800 a year. As the Bureau of Prohibition states that it will be its policy to fill the positions of investigator and inspector by promotion, persons desiring appointment to those positions should enter the agent examination.

LAKE VILLA SCHOOL NOTES

Halloween parties were enjoyed as follows: Room IV, Friday night from 7 o'clock to 11 o'clock; Room III, Tuesday from 5 to 8; Rooms I and II, Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4. Mr. Brinkman assisted in making the playroom attractive.

Banking reports for the week are: Room I—42 percent; Room II—73 percent; Room III—100 percent; Room IV—59 percent.

Wednesday morning, special Halloween programs were given with the assistance of some of the piano pupils of Miss McLaughlin. The various numbers will be mentioned in our next issue.

Mirrors for the cloak rooms and the material for the bulletin boards have arrived.

In Room One

Due to a progressive school board we have been well supplied with seat work material in reading. This week we received material suitable for Arithmetic help in the first grade. Now the instructor feels well supplied and the children seem pleased.

The second grade had an old fashioned "spell-down" Friday afternoon. Forty of the hardest words from this year's list were used. At the end of the 20 minute period the better contestants stood in the following order: Ellen Snyder, Virginia Hadad, Donald Sherwood, Janice Kapple, and Venetta Philippi. Venetta says she will never miss the word "when" again.

In Room Two

Perfect spellers for the week are: Joe McCann, Mabel McCann, Alice Dixon, George Walker, Valerie Wilton, Leone Buchta, Glenn Gring, Jean Cribb, Helen Hamlin.

In Room Three

We made audials Tuesday and are planning a large one for the campus. The study of Hoover and Smith cartoons we find to be fun and to furnish entertainment.

The club was entertained by a Halloween play presented by the following members: Elsie Fowler, Lorraine Hooper, Elsie Swanson, John Hall, Edith Murphy, Oliver Nelson, and William Walker.

Our two baseball teams, the "New York Yankees" and the "Cubs" are now playing the second series. The Cubs won the first, but the Yanks are ahead now.

In Room Four

Several pupils accepted the invitation of Principal L. O. Bright to attend the football game in Antioch, Saturday.

Potted plants have been loaned to us. Thank you, Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Hall.

Alumni—Class of 1925

Raymond Barnette, Bertha Schorn, Bernice and Frances Daugwill are seniors in Antioch High school.

Thomas McClure is working for Hamlin brothers.

Helen Williamson is attending the Holy Child High school in Waukegan. Bernice Wickens is enrolled at Warren Township High school.

Norma Keller is now Mrs. Peter Neaguard and lives in Chicago. Olive Rhoades has joined the ranks of the "idle rich."

(Held Over From Last Week)

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scott, Plymouth, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krushke, Waldo, Wis., were guests of Miss Mabel Scott at the C. B. Hamlin home Sunday.

The Rev. Alsbaugh preached here Sunday, and has been assigned to this place by the district superintendent. As soon as his wife and four year-old son arrive from Oklahoma.

they will occupy the parsonage.

Mrs. Nickerson has her mother there with her for the winter.

J. A. Pederson has been ill with pneumonia the last two or three weeks, but is now able to be about the house. He and Mrs. Pederson entertained Chicago relatives Thursday.

Friends of Mrs. Carola Barnstable, a former resident here, will be sorry to hear that she has been in an automobile accident and is in the Albany General hospital in Albany, Oregon, recovering from a broken collar bone and two broken ribs. The car skidded on slippery pavement and rolled down a 10-foot embankment. The other occupants of the car were uninjured.

Monday was visiting day for our teachers, and Mr. Beckwith visited schools in Chicago. Miss Scott, Miss Selora and Miss Faltch spent the day in Milwaukee schools, and also called on Miss Alice Warner, who taught here last year, but is now taking an art course in Milwaukee.

Miss Ruth Avery and Miss Helen Williamson who are attending Holy Child High school in Waukegan, were at their respective homes over the end of the week.

Miss Freund, McHenry, is employed at the Avery office as bookkeeper to take care of that part of Mr. Avery's business.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Douglas and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Sherwood.

LAKE VILLA SCHOOL NOTES

We are pleasantly located in our remodeled school building with lighting from the cheerful south windows at the left of the desks. We feel that we have the best junior in the county and hope that the cold weather will not dampen his enthusiasm.

The half-hour period of music, art, and penmanship begins at 11:30 and 2 o'clock.

Rooms two and three are holding the honor flag for attendance.

School was closed Monday, October 22. The teachers visited other schools.

In Room One

We are sorry to report our room so far below 100 percent in banking. Some have not banked this year.

Dorothy Lester entered first grade this week.

The following have been perfect in spelling for the week: Helen Walls, Margaret Walker, Venetta Philippi, Earl McCann, Janice Kapple and Virginia Hadad.

In Room Two

George Schmidt has been promoted to the fifth grade due to the excellence of his work this year.

With room one we are planning a Halloween party. It's great fun.

Those perfect in spelling were: Bobbie Madison, Valerie Wilton, Glenn Gring, Ruth Miner, Mabel McCann.

In Room Three

Our enrollment has been increased to 25 with the entering of George Schmidt.

We had to take down the 100 percent banking sign because of the forgetfulness of a few pupils. The sign will be up again.

The room club, which is nameless, enjoyed a sociable hour Friday with Margaret McKelvey as guest of honor. She has been presented with a farewell gift by which to remember her friends at the Lake Villa school. The club has some thrilling plans in store for their Halloween party.

In Room Four

We enjoy our room very much. The desks face west and at the front of the room we have the Statue of Liberty, the reading table (both gifts of the class of 1927) and the Howard map. Under the windows are radiator and sectional bookcases.

Wednesday, the eighth grade organized a club with the following officers to serve until the election in February: Paul Avery, president; Evor Jensen, vice-president; Evelyn Miller, secretary; Carl Nader, treasurer.

Lucille Foster and Edith Matthies received Future Improvement diplomas the first month of school.

Friday, room three joined us to enjoy the special music program presented by the pupils of Miss McLaughlin: Popeira Man, Johnston; London Bridge, Butler; and Whispering Home, Butler; Alleen Kapple. ## WILLIAM J. STRATTON

My Pledge to the People of Illinois:

I WILL ask for no appropriations from the Legislature except for the legitimate and economical maintenance of the office of Secretary of State.

I will exert all my influence to reduce public expenditures wherever possible and to curtail appropriations and thereby seek to reduce the state tax rate for the benefit of the farmers, the laboring men and women, the manufacturers and the business people of our commonwealth generally.

Under no circumstances will I accept any emoluments other than the salary fixed by law for the Secretary of State.

I will devote all my time exclusively to the duties and responsibilities of the office of Secretary of State and will attend personally to the proper and efficient functioning of this important state executive department.

For Secretary of State
☒ WILLIAM J. STRATTON

Truth About Stratton from One Who Knows Him Best:

"NO official in the State of Illinois ever gave more hearty and intelligent support to the cause of education and recreation sponsored by the educational forces of the State of Illinois than William J. Stratton during his administration as Director of Conservation.

"I most sincerely urge all men and women of the State of Illinois who are interested in the mental and physical development of our children to recognize the public service rendered by Mr. Stratton and not overlook the opportunity to give him their vote and support, irrespective of party affiliations, for Secretary of State."

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

The modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free

Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

Check battery
 Check generator charging rate
 Check distributor adjustment
 Check carburetor adjustment
 Check lights
 Check brakes
 Check shock absorber adjustment
 Check tire inflation
 Check steering gear
 Change engine oil
 Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

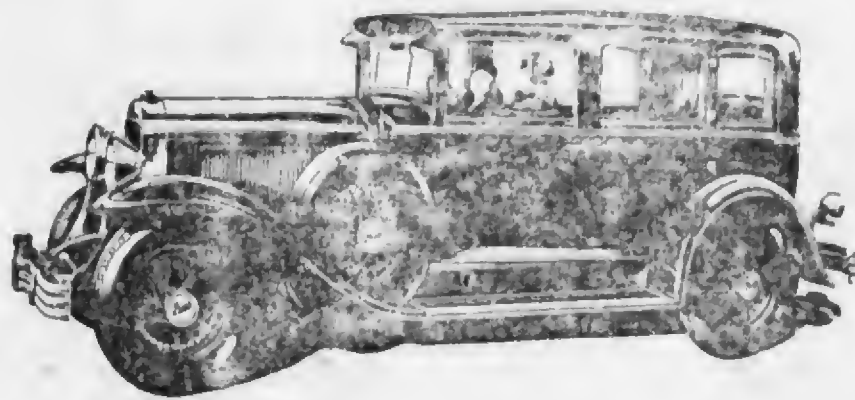

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A checking-up by experienced mechanics, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

The new Buick is the new Style

Men and women on every street--
 --in every city and town-- are pronouncing the new BUICK, with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day.

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized--when imitation was destroying individuality--these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode--

A mode of body-symmetry--of size and magnificence--of soft contours instead of straight lines--of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world!

And as the weeks have passed--and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public--enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.

CRIME RING HIT IN TALK BY ROBERTSON

Well Known Chicago Medic
Strikes Hard For Good Government.

(Political Advertisement)
Special.

Chicago, Nov. 1—Echoes of Chicago's last mayoralty fight, wherein Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the west park board here, smashed right and left in his effort to awaken citizens, have been reverberating since Dr. Robertson's speech, last Tuesday night at a banquet at the Palmer House, attended by nearly 1,300 Republicans in compliment to William J. Stratton, Republican candidate for secretary of state, and his family.

The dinner, which was attended by representatives of many former party factions, now reorganized under the leadership of Fred Lundin, has taken a place unique in the annals of Cook county politics. The affair was statewide in scope, due to the presence of many downstate, as well as Cook county voters. Presiding at the dinner as toastmaster was State Senator Earl B. Searey, of Springfield, who, in introducing Dr. Robertson, declared:

"He fired the first gun against organized crime, and its alliance with politics, in Chicago in the last mayoral race here; and the seeds that he and his friends sowed bore first visible fruit in the partial evacuation of these forces in last April's primary."

Dr. Robertson's speech in part, was as follows:

"I am for Herbert Hoover for President of my country because I believe him to be the man best fitted to administer the affairs of this nation at this time."

"I believe that Herbert Hoover is wonderfully prepared to lead the people of America during the next four years."

"I believe that it was not mere accident that Herbert Hoover was in England when the great war broke out and that he was drafted to play an important role in that war. He was drafted because he was needed to do things that others could not do. He was able to do them because he was prepared by peculiar ability and training to do them. He was a student of science, and science is nothing more or less than a classified knowledge of nature."

"It was not accident. He was selected because he had made preparation."

"He is endowed with tremendous energy and with great sympathy for his fellow men."

"My friends, God prepared Herbert Hoover, just as he prepared Washington and Lincoln for their great tasks to humanity. Hoover was trained in the laboratory—first, the University laboratories, and then in nature's great laboratory."

"As an engineer in many countries of the world he wrested hidden wealth from its mountain strongholds. He designed and had built after those designs machinery to do this. His great knowledge was recognized by many great men and his services sought after.

Has Helped The Needy

"He became not only a master mining engineer, but a great business engineer, and that was why Ambassador Page commended his great abilities and drafted him to care for a starving Belgium. Hoover was called for this service in Belgium after the great juggernauts of war had passed through, leaving ruin and destruction in their wake. He served as the great physician to this starving, bleeding country. He it was who furnished milk to mothers and babies in order that they might live. He it was who bound up their wounds, who housed them, fed them, and who secured medicines and hospital for their sick and dying. He it was who tore away the red tape and smashed the embargo which surrounded Belgium like bars of steel."

"He was able to do these things because he had the weapons to do them with—the weapons of a trained mind and a broad field of experience. He had great sympathy and understanding of the needs of these stricken people, but all of his sympathy would have failed him without his scientific knowledge."

"After he had finished his relief work in Belgium, he was called to Germany to organize the German relief. When this was done he was given the important task of directing commerce at home."

"Warren Harding told me in February, 1920, two weeks before he was inaugurated President, upon the occasion of my visit to him in Miami, Florida, to urge upon him the appointment of one of Chicago's leading business men, that he was going to appoint Herbert Hoover Secretary of Commerce. He stated that this was in no sense a political appointment but was done in response to a general demand for his appointment from all over the United States."

Hoover Widely Analyzed

"For eight years we have followed his work as Secretary of Commerce, we have read in the public press and magazines articles portraying this man to us."

"As Health Commissioner of Chicago I was interested in food conservation. My duties called upon me to fight not only for its conservation, but for proper distribution of it. I listened to Herbert Hoover addressing the American Public Health association. I read with interest his plans for conservation of human life on our traffic highways and his rules promulgated at the National Safety conference in Washington two years ago."

"We find as Secretary of Commerce he was put in charge of the relief of the stricken Mississippi flood victims. We find him there not with brass bands and loud words, but diligently working for their present relief and with an engineering plan for permanent relief."

"Throughout these eight years one difficult task after another has been presented to him for solution and he has solved them."

"And so we find him today, at the prime of his physical and mental vigor, ready to take on the great task as Chief of this great nation."

"A serious, energetic, learned, experienced product of America—trained for the task ahead of him."

Is For The Home

"He will be selected as our President for the same reason that other great men have been selected, not because he is a great orator, platform artist, not because he promises the people jazz but because he appeals to that mother and that father who are rearing future American citizens. He says to them: 'I am for your home; I am for education for your daughter and your son; I am for properly safeguarding their home and their future homes. I stand ready for the home, the unit of our national morality and safety.'"

"Hoover will be elected because he has made preparation for the task of President."

"Republicans of the State of Illinois have nominated as their candidate for Governor of this State, a man who has had wide experience in the government of Illinois, and after everything has been said and everything has been done, the intelligent people of this country and this State realize that experience is the best teacher and the best preparer of men and women for tasks to be performed."

"No one wants to trust his life, or the lives of his family or friends to an inexperienced surgeon; no one wants to trust a great legal case to an inexperienced lawyer; no one wants to trust his country, his State or his city, to the hands of inexperienced executives."

Emmerson Fitted For Governor

"The people of the State of Illinois know that Louis L. Emmerson, our candidate for Governor, has had a wide training, wide experience, that he knows Illinois—he knows its government. Having served the people of this great Commonwealth as Secretary of State during the last twelve years, he has come in contact and is well known to every man and woman who reads. They know that as Secretary of State he has served them efficiently. They know that he is highly prepared for the task of Governor of this State."

"They know him as a doer and as an energetic and efficient worker. The thousands of citizens of the State of Illinois who have been served by Louis L. Emmerson as Secretary of State, hold him in high esteem. They admire his efficiency and his integrity. They have re-elected him three times, and invariably with a greater majority than any other candidate on the ticket. They will not be fooled now by derogatory statements in regard to him."

"Campaigning with him downstate at this moment is a man who was nominated for United States Senator—Otis F. Glenn, of Murphysboro."

"He was born in Illinois, the son of Joseph C. Glenn, who for many years was on the State Board of Equalization. Years ago he had made a name for himself as State's Attorney of his own country, and later as a member of the State Legislature."

Glenn A Courageous Leader

"He believes that a United States Senator should be a leader, rather than a follower of public opinion, because, as he states it, they possess greater facilities and opportunities of advising themselves upon important problems of national legislation. He stands for the things which he believes sound and right, rather than for those things which, while for the passing moment, are seemingly popular, yet in the last analysis are unsound and contrary to the progress of our country. He states: 'I shall not be afraid to take the positions I believe to be right and advocate them as best I can.' We know this to be true, because last spring, when he announced himself as a candidate for the high office of United States Senator, he was not afraid to tell the truth. With very little organization behind him, he won the victory because the great unorganized forces of the people rallied to the polls and voted for him. His victory was one for good government, the safety of the home, the purity of the ballot, and for honest and economic administration of government."

"Otis F. Glenn has the education, the training and ability to make for Illinois a fearless and efficient United States Senator."

Stratton, Man Of Honesty

"The people of this great state nominated another energetic and efficient citizen from Lake County to be their Secretary of State. Tonight we are here to do honor to him, and to say to the people of Illinois in his presence that we know William J. Stratton, we know his sterling character, we know from personal experience of his great efficiency and integrity. For twelve years William J. Stratton has served the people of this State in the important position of conserving her natural resources."

"William J. Stratton is personally known and loved in every county, in every city, and in every hamlet of the State of Illinois. This great multitude gathered here tonight from every county in the State is here not only to honor him, but to assure him that we are proud of him, we are proud of the service he has rendered to this great State, and that we are rallying to make sure that he will be triumphantly elected as the next Secretary of State three weeks from today."

"Two years ago a number of my friends requested that I offer myself as a candidate for Mayor of the City of Chicago, on the platform of smashing the crime rings, and of settling the traction problem in the interests of the people."

"I noticed in this great audience to-

Asks Square Deal
For Boone County

N. L. Jackson, Republican candidate for the state legislature, is the only candidate for that office from Boone county. Two Lake county candidates have been nominated on Republican ticket—Lee McDonough and Richard J. Lyons. In all fairness Boone county feels that it is entitled to one place on the legislative roll.

night many of the men and women who made an honest and fearless battle for these principles. You were able to gather together a little over 5000 men and women of this city to vote with you on these issues, the majority of whom knew when they voted that their candidate could not master sufficient votes to be elected, but they also knew that there had had to be a fight waged against corruption in politics in this city, and were willing to be sacrificed, if need be, in starting the fight."

Opens Fight Against Crime.

"The mills of the Gods grind slow—at times, very, very slow, but they grind exceeding fine."

"I took from my files the Bulletins which were issued at the time of our Mayoralty campaign, and I read from one of these Bulletins, the following:—"

"To break the alliance between crime and politics. To put an end to gang war murders and government by gunmen. To protect our citizens in their homes and to make our streets and public places safe for men, women and children."

"To drive grafting police and officials in league with beer-drunkers, bootleggers and criminals from the public service. To reward honesty and efficiency in the police department."

"To use the instrumentalities of the Mayor's office to prevent election frauds and ballot box thievery."

"Great oaks from little acorns grow, and the seed which you planted a little over a year ago had grown so rapidly that by the 10th of April the candidates who stood upon the platform which we wrote and carried to the people, won triumphantly."

"Naturally, the fight entered upon the law-enforcing officer of this County. Upon the platform of smashing the crime rings, and divorcing crime and politics stood John A. Swanson, candidate for State's Attorney. The story was partly written when he was nominated for that high office. But this victory was only temporary. It will not be complete until it is followed by his election on November 6. Even then the victory will not be complete. In fact, it will not even then be a victory, but it will be a great opportunity for him to whom our early has reposed its confidence. He has given us his solemn pledge and purpose to complete the fight to smash the crime rings in this community, and divorce crime from politics, and thus make a living reality of the principles for which we stood."

Swanson For Decency.

"A malicious attempt is being made to frighten people away from Judge Swanson, by arguing that he is a snooping reformer. I am convinced that nothing is further from the truth, and that his real purpose will be to make the streets of our city safe for our women and children, and to free the small business men from the exactions and extortions of the racketeers."

"I urge everyone of my friends and everyone of you who fought against great obstacles in the Primary battle, to take Judge Swanson at his word, for I am absolutely convinced that he will carry on and do those things which you, I, and he fought for, and which he has solemnly agreed to carry out. If we do, then I predict that your next State's Attorney will be John A. Swanson."

"I do not believe we should fool ourselves into the belief that those who profit by the combination between crime and politics will vote for John A. Swanson. A bitter and tremendous battle is being waged by all of those groups to prevent his election. The challenge is to the good people of this community, to rally to John A. Swanson's support, and thus prevent the enemies of good government from defeating him. These same forces that nominated him can elect him, but they must stay on the job in order to accomplish it."

Lake county, in addition to the two giving Boone county a square deal by candidates for the lower house, will continue to have the state senator in the Hon. Ray Paddock.

Mr. Jackson has been endorsed by the Legislative Voters League and other organizations. He is being warmly supported by farmers in Boone and McHenry counties for his excellent record in behalf of the farmers. He is credited with having been a factor in getting work started on Route 173. He is not asking Lake county voters to neglect the Lake county candidates. On the other hand, he expects the Republican voters in Lake county to be loyal to both McDonough and Lyons. He does expect, however, his just share of the Lake county Republican vote and will appreciate help from Lake county in day on business.

Republican women of Lake county are invited to attend a tea to be given by the Woman's division of the Lake County Central committee in the Karcher hotel, Waukegan, tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Those in charge have asked all Republican women "interested in Tuesday's campaign and in the victory of the party" to be present.

Helen Cribb, who is attending the Illinois School of Pharmacy, Chicago, spent the end of the week with her parents. H. R. Smith was in Chicago Monday to appreciate help from Lake county in day on business.
